SF State’s MPA program has provided me a strong foundation to holistically understand and address the needs of our most at-risk students. The program’s multidisciplinary approach ensures the policies and interventions I promote are comprehensive in nature.

David Woo, Director of College Advisors, Undergraduate Advising Center, MPA ’06

Going back to school is not an easy decision, but the fee waiver took the financial stress out of the equation. You get the freedom to tailor the courses to your own interests and passions, and the faculty will mentor you along the way. The program has helped me to become a better writer, leader, and public servant. Getting your MPA will not be easy, but it will be worth it.

Shae Antonette Hancock, Chief of Operations, University Enterprises, MPA Spring ‘23

The MPA made a leader who uses critical thinking; understands the value of partnering, teaming, and collaboration to achieve unified organizational goals; and is open to the perspectives of others.

Troy Liddi, Police Lieutenant, SF State Police Department, Retired, MPA ‘07

The MPA program has provided me with a solid foundation in which I can be an administrator, who exudes integrity, collaboration, and inclusiveness. I now have the resources to strengthen my leadership, critical thinking, presentation skills, organizational behavior and public policy.

Jen Gasang, Executive Director, Institute for Civic & Community Engagement, MPA ‘16
